More Than Five Thousand Pieces
of Wearing Apparel Will Be Distributed Thanksgiving.

Many hearts will be made glad by after Thanksgiving by the Needwork Guild, which is fast filling the basement of the Carnegie library
with brand-new winter garments.
More than 5,000 pieces of wearing apparel will have been collected by Friday morning, and all will be distributed in the charitable institution and among the poor of Atlanta's innermost district.

All day Wednesday the garments were piled into the library and under the direction of Mrs. W. R. Hammond, chairman of the Atlanta chapter of the Needwork Guild of America, were put in their proper places.

Mrs. F. R. Stewart, No. 133 Lee

Boulevard, took the women who were placed on a big chair, and each was given a bag, showing the kind of garment it was.

There were kimono, boys' shirts,
waistcoats, pillow slips, sheets,
handkerchiefs, underwear,
everything else that is worn in

FEELING HIGH

Dr. Everhart's Report Stirs the
Jeff Davis County People
Against Bridegroom.

Dr. Edgar Everhart's startling report that enough strychnine had been found in the flour and biscuits analyzed by him to accomplish a wholesale murder was submitted to the Jeff Davis County officials Wednesday.

The high feeling that had followed the mysterious illness of members of the family of James C. Rose, of Haden-hurst, and the subsequent arrest of Patrick Uresky, a prominent young man who only a short time before had married the daughter of Rose, instantly was revived and the case again became the subject on every tongue.

Uresky is in jail in Appling County.
In the face of the accusations of accused murder and the sensational discovery of large quantities of strychnine in the flour eaten by the Rose family, Uresky continued his steadfast declarations of innocence
Wednesday.

Rose and members of his family were taken suddenly ill after eating some biscuits a short time after the wedding of his daughter and young Uresky. Suspicious circumstances surrounded the arrest of Uresky. It was said to have bought some strychnine
a few days before, explaining that the poems were eating his chicken.

Mrs. Champ Clark
On How to Roast
Turkey Properly

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Mrs.
Champ Clark, wife of the Speaker,
today told for the benefit of housewives in general how to roast the Thanksgiving turkey properly. Distasteful, dry dressing is the secret of Mrs. Clark's method.

Her recipe calls for two quarts of stale bread, crumbed and seasoned with two level teaspoons of salt, a heaping teaspoon of pepper, two teaspoons each of powdered summer savory and minced parsley and of powdered sage. Then rub a cupful of butter through the crumbs, and fill the cavity of the turkey with this and sew up.

Mrs. Clark then rubs salt all over the turkey, puts it in a roasting pan, screeds a tablespoon of butter over the breast and slices it in a medium hot oven. The turkey should be roasted every ten minutes with its own gravy until done.

TRAP FOR FLEEING
HERBERT
ARMY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—In response to a request from General Bliss, the Twentieth Infantry at Fort Douglas, Ariz., to-day was ordered to El Paso, Texas,
to protect the border city pending
the settlement of affairs
across the line at Juarez.

General Bliss, in his telegram
to Secretary of War Garrison, declared the border patrol of cavalry should not be weakened if he did not have enough troops
there to defend El Paso property.

EL PASO, TEXAS, Nov. 26.—Between 700 and 800 Federal prisoners were brought into Juarez this morning on a special train from the scene of the recent battle between rebels and Huerta's men. The greater number of them are enlisted men who, it is said, were deserted on the field by the officers.

All hospitals in Juarez are crowded with wounded, and advice has been received saying that 1,000 more are on the way to Juarez.

Deserting fighting between scattered bands of Federal soldiers and pursuing Constitutionalists is going on in the south of Juarez to-day. While the main Huerta army is retreating into a trap set by General Villa, the rebel commander, insurgent forces are coming up from Chihuahua under the leadership of General Manuel Chao, and the rebel leaders in Juarez predict that the Federal would be repulsed between the two armies.

Dead Between 600 and 1,500.
There was firing throughout the day, west of Juarez, where the left wing of the Federal command under General Marcelino Caraveo made an advance of the Constitutionalists and to give the right flank and center
of the shattered Federal army time to reform its ranks in battle formation.

General Villa and Colonel Juan
Medina sent word to the Constitutionalist junta here that the Federals had been completely routed. The dead, on both sides, are estimated from 600 to 1,500. Juarez and the small towns south of that city are full of wounded. All but two of the Federal officers captured are reported to have been executed at Villa's express orders, together with a number of the Constitutionalists.

Volta Behaves Bravely.
A shortage of ammunition may kill the advance of the rebel army, although they captured several gunnery supply trains north of Santiago carrying heavy consignments
of munitions.

General Villa, who behaved with comprehensive bravery during the 26-hour battle, having a horse shot from under him on the firing line, has an unlabeled shoulder wound. He is being taken to the city on the National Railway. Villa has sent out several appeals for Red Cross nurses to care for the wounded rebels. Many of the wounded Federal were bayon-eted to death on the field, the Constitutionalists declaring that "waste good ammunition" for such a purpose.

Bodies of dead and wounded men, carcasses of dead horses, and all the other ghastly accompaniments which mark the scene of battle are scattered over an area of nearly 20 square miles.

The hospitals, hotels and public buildings in Juarez are filled with wounded. They were carrying on the Rio Grande to points near El Paso.

U. S. Troops Are Rushed to City Federal Convicts Beaten, He Charges

RAPS MOYER ON LEAVING PRISON

Released Man Upholds Hawthorne's Charges—Says Clubbing Crazy One Prisoner.

"I haven't any personal grudge to satisfy; I haven't even any complaint to make of the manner in which I was treated, but I am talking for those men back there who are being made to suffer the tortures of hell." Harry Orburn, just released from the Atlanta Federal Prison after serving nineteen months and six days of a two-year sentence, uttered this explanation at the conclusion of his interview with The Georgian, in which he mercilessly pictured conditions at the penitentiary as brutal and revolting and the administration as society bedeviled.

One convict, who, having had from the treatment he had received at the hands of a guard, and others had been cruelly beaten, Orburn said. His tale finished, Orburn boarded a train for New York. From there he will go to Auburn, Maine, his old home, where he will resume his former vocation as an engraver. He was sentenced from Portland, Maine, on the charge of making false affidavits to obtain pension money.

Although Orburn's offense was in the nature of a technical violation of the law, he was free in admitting before starting back home that he had erred.

"I'm going to live it down, though," he declared firmly. "My uncle and I both fought in the war. Both of us were entitled to pensions. I was getting the limit in which I was entitled under the law, but I used his name to get more. I didn't realize the gravity of the offense. As I viewed it, I was not defrauding the government of anything which it should not pay. I can see it differently now."

The convict-escapee depicted the stories of kindly treatment of the prisoners.

"They're free," he said, "lies, all of them."

"Men have been clubbed over the head by guards simply because they said they couldn't eat the horrible food that was set before them. With my own eyes I have seen that."

"A nigger, because he got in a petty row with another convict, was stricken stiff by a blow from one of the guards. Then he was given fifteen days in the dungeon to look."

"The convicts at the prison almost to a man believe that the prisoner known as 'Dumey' died as the result of a blow with which a guard felled him."

"So there isn't a rule at the prison of a few men who have been in the dungeon, and who have been treated to the dogs by the marshals on their arrival. They know there's a hole there, and they will tell about it quite enough when their time is up or when an important investigation is wanted."

"There's a young lad at the prison now who was beaten over the head by a club, and in his hand lies a silver coin. That is the kind of humane treatment they get out there."

Investigation by a man or a body of men who have no personal interest in Warden Moyer or any of the attaches is the only kind of an investigation that will do any good. When this sort of a probe is started witnesses in prison will be found

CHRISTMAS TREES TO BE GIVEN TO CHURCHES

Four Big Yuletide Cedars, Completely Laden, to Go to Atlanta Churches.

Christmas trees to be given away? Here is a joyful prospect for a great many Atlanta children. Four Christmas trees will be the gifts of The Atlanta Georgian and Sunday American to the boys and girls of four churches of this city. They will be big enough and completely enough fitted to bear presents for hundreds of little folk, each one of them.

Already the trees, great, haughty green cedars, are being marked on a certain plantation not far out on Peachtree road. Already the glittering tinsel and the bright glass balls and red Christmas bells have been brought to make the trees something of a fairyland beauty. Already there are hundreds of red and green and yellow candles, all laid out in a row to be tied to the trees and lighted when the time comes for the visit of Santa Claus.

The Georgian and The Sunday American have an order in with a big range to go on the trees. Arrangements have been made for enough to light Santa Claus down country to go on the trees, too, and all this will go on the trees, too, and will be marked: "For the children."

As much for the trees. Now about who will get them.

It might be any church in Atlanta. FOUR CHURCHES, if there are worthy among its membership.

Terms of the Contest.

The trees will be given to four churches whose members, during the period between December 1 and December 25, secure the most subscribers to The Atlanta Georgian and Sunday American. There are not many restrictions in the contest. The subscribers thus obtained must be new subscribers; that is, they must not have been on the subscription list of The Georgian and Sunday American within the last four weeks. Also, each new subscriber is to contribute to the fund for the trees. The prize of the contest will be a Christmas tree for each of the four churches that will be created with 2,000 votes. And here are the rewards:

For the church bringing in the largest number of subscribers, a Christmas tree, completely trimmed, to cost $100. There will be oranges and boxes of candy for each one of 500 persons.

For the church securing the next largest number of subscribers, a $75 tree, with oranges and candy for 300 persons.

For the church securing the third largest number of subscribers, a $50 tree, with oranges and candy for 200 persons.

For the church securing the fourth largest number of subscribers, a $25 tree, with oranges and candy for 100 persons.

Many Individual Presents.

And then the individual workers will be rewarded. Suppose a little girl or a little boy works hard in your church to get the Christmas tree for the other little girls and boys. And suppose he or she brings in the largest number of subscribers. Then, if it is a boy, he will get a $10 watch from The Georgian. If it is a girl, she will get a $10 doll. To the individual securing the next largest number, a $5 watch or doll, to the next, a set of roller skates.

HUNDREDS DEAD ON BATTLE FIELDS

Rebel Train Brings Over Six Hundred Prisoners Into Juarez and One Thousand Are on Way.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—In response to a request from General Bliss, the Twentieth Infantry at Fort Douglas, Ariz., to-day was ordered to El Paso, Texas, to protect the border city pending the settlement of affairs across the line at Juarez.

Reports that bands of Federal soldiers were advancing on Juarez, which is continuing to talk city council alarm among the inhabitants and resulted in the call for more troops.

General Bliss, in his telegram to Secretary of War Garrison, declared the border patrol of cavalry should not be weakened, as he did not have enough troops there to defend El Paso properly.

Reverend Adolph Fletcher, in a radio-telegram to the Navy Department to-day, described the conditions at Juarez as satisfactory and under complete control of the Mexican Federal troops.

Dispatches received at the State Department to-day announced that communication between Tampico and Victoria, Mexico, has been suspended since November 22.

Some anxiety is felt for Americans who are in Victoria, which has fallen into the hands of the rebels.

A report of the situation at Tampico was received at the department in a long code message from Admiral Fletcher. The report has not been made public.

Mrs. Whitehead Off To Join Her Stricken Fiance in Virginia

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Mrs. J. E. Whitehead, of Atlanta, reported here to be the "wealthiest widow in the South," left the St. Regis Hotel in this city to-day for Lynchburg, Va., to be with her fiancé, Keely Evans, who has just been operated upon for a malignant and acute attack of appendicitis.

Mr. Evans was stricken most unexpectedly on the train en route from the South to New York, and was hurried to a sanatorium in Lynchburg, the nearest station.

Mrs. Whitehead is said to have a yearly income of some $100,000, is well known for her philanthropy, and her engagement to Mr. Evans has been the subject of much pleasant newspaper comment of late throughout the entire United States, as well as in Canada. Mr. Evans' native country.

Suffragette Leader Lauds Hearst Papers

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—In her address at Carnegie Hall, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the English suffragette leader, said:

"Throughout the United States I am happy to say, I find that newspapers generally give fair play to the suffrage movement. But I want to particularly endorse the series of newspaper articles throughout the country by Mr. Hearst, which indicate the militant movement in England as well as the struggle for the recognition of women in this country."

Whenever I reach a city in which one of his newspapers is published I know that I will find a true and hearty support of our movement. Therefore I feel it my duty to express deepest gratitude to Mr. Hearst and his newspapers."

Asks Quiz of Packers To Find Price Control

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Representative Burton, of Illinois, introduced a resolution in the House to-day instructing the Committee on Judiciary to investigate whether the American packers so control the supply of meat that they are able to fix prices in the United States.

The resolution alleges that the Navy Department was able to purchase beef cheaply in Argentina, and asserted that the public should be able to do the same.

PASO DECLARES WOMAN FIXED BREAD

Bride of Man Suspected of Crime Refuses to Believe Relatives' Charges.

HAZELHURST, Nov. 28.—Patrick Ursery, in jail here charged wit hpoisoning the entire family of his wife to gain her inheritance, late to-day accused a woman of the crime. Ursery declared that this woman who is the wife of a well-known farmer, in this community, visited the home of his father-in-law, J. G. Ross, shortly before the family partook of the poisoned bread. He said that her husband was an arch enemy of Ross and intimated that he had influenced her to administer the strychnine.

Her recipe calls for two quarts of stale bread, crumbed and seasoned with two level teaspoonfuls of salt, a heaping teaspoon of pepper, two teaspoons each of powdered summer savory and minced parsley and of powdered sage. Then rub a cupful of butter through the crumbs, and fill the cavity of the turkey with this and sew up.

Mrs. Clark then rubs salt all over the turkey, puts it in a roasting pan, spreads a tablespoon of butter over the breast and places it in a medium hot oven. The turkey should he baste every ten minutes with its own gravy until done.

Suffragette Leader Lauds Hearst Paper

---

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—In her address at Carnegie Hall, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the English suffragettes, today lauded the Hearst paper as the best of the American press.

"Throughout the United States, am happy to say, I find that new papers generally give fair play to the suffrage movement. But I want particularly indorse the series of newspapers controlled throughout the country by Mr. Hearst, which indorse the militant movement in England as well as the struggle for the recognition of women in this country.

"Whenever at each city is written one of his newspapers is published, know that I will find a true and hearty support of our movement. Therefore I feel it my duty to express deepest gratitude to Mr. Hearst and his newspapers."

Ursery has admitted having purchased a bottle of strychnine, but avowed that his intention was to use it in poisoning some animals which had been troubling about his poultry yard at night.

Despite the terrible crime of which her husband is accused, Mrs. Ursery continues to stand loyally by him. The young wife has left her parents' home and gone to reside with the family of her husband's brother, because, it is said, of the attitude of her father toward Ursery. She has visited her husband daily in his cell. She defies all of his accusers.

The report of Dr. Everhart, the Assistant District Attorney, that considerable quantity of strychnine was contained in the flour and blaught used on the Ross table has aroused indignation.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Mrs. J. B. Whitehead, of Atlanta, reported here to be the "wealthiest widow in the South," left the St. Regis Hotel this city to-day for Lynchburg, Va., to be with her fiancé, Keely Evans, who has just been operated upon for a sudden and acute attack of appendicitis.

Mr. Evans was stricken most unexpectedly on the train en route from the South to New York, and was hurried to a sanitarium in Lynchburg, the nearest station.

Whitehead is said to have a yearly income of some $200,000. It is well known for her philanthropy, and her engagement to Mr. Evans has been the subject of much pleasant newspaper comment in this city throughout the entire United States, as well as in Canada. Mr. Evans' native country.

How to Make the Best Cough Remedy at Home

A Family Supply at Small Cost, and Fully Guaranteed.
Make a plain syrup by mixing 1 pint of granulated sugar and  $\frac{1}{2}$  pint of warm water and stir for two minutes. Put  $2\frac{1}{2}$  ounces of pure Pinex (50 cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and fill it up with the sugar syrup. This gives you a family supply of the best cough syrup at a saving of \$2. It never spoils. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

The effectiveness of this simple remedy is surprising. It seems to take hold almost instantly, and will usually conquer an ordinary cough in twenty-four hours. It tones up the jaded appetite and is just laxative enough to be helpful in a cough, and is as pleasing to the patient as it is efficacious in bronchial trouble, bronchial asthma, whooping cough and spasmodic croup.

This method of making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup (or strained honey) is now used in more homes than any other cough syrup.

This explains why it is often imitated, though never successfully. If you try it, use only genuine Pinex, which is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in gualacal and other natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this combination.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Fort Wayne, Ind.

Valuable Property To Be Sold Dec. 10 On West Peachtree

Old Woodward Home, With Property Worth $100,000, To Be Sold—Analyze Auctioneers.

A sale of more than ordinary interest in real estate circles will be that of December 10 of the realty belonging to the defunct Guarantee Trust and Banking Company, which includes valuable parcels on West Peachtree street, among them the former home of Colonel Paul Woodward.

The Superior Court has issued an order after the time at 3 p. m. of the date mentioned, and the sales will be from the premises, Steve R. Johnson will be the auctioneer.

James D. Robinson and Harold Hines are the receivers, and Dorsey, Heston, Howell & Heyman, Smith & Hastings and Charles T. and Linn C. Hinkins are the attorneys.

Hotel Annex Plans.
Colonel J. B. Pound, head of the company which built the Hotel Anson, declared Wednesday that he hoped to go ahead in the spring of 1914 with the proposed thirty-story annex to the Anson, although no definite arrangement had yet been made. The annex, which would be built on the site of the old Hotel Anson, would have been turned away last week because of lack of funds.

The hotel annex will face James street west of Forsyth, and will be a four-story building, with a total of 100 rooms, and will be built on the site of the old Hotel Anson, which was destroyed by fire in 1911.
